

Embossing direction

For round seal presses, there are four different directions possible to affix the die, from the bottom, from the top, from the right or from the left.

For square seal presses, two different directions are possible, from the bottom or from the top.

On the illustration below, you can see on what position of the paper the impression should appear.

Choose your desired embossing direction and the die will be affixed accordingly on the seal press.
